A MONTHLY BULLETIN OF THE
CHURCH OF SAINT MARY THE VIRGIN
NEW YORK
Dear Parishioners of St Mary's:

I hope that by this writing each of you will have sent in your 1947 pledge for the support of your home parish and the Missions of Holy Church. If you have not done so already, will you do so today? You will if you really value the blessed privileges that are yours as Catholic Christians. You will if you want to have your happy share in bearing the financial burden that Christian work and worship rightly entail. You will if in common honesty you refuse to shirk your happy duty by leaving to others the sharing of this burden. And always remember that the burden will be light if it is borne with a glad heart — a heart filled with gratitude for God's continued grace and mercy.

The beginning of a new year suggests a resolution to put your house in order. This suggests naturally the making of your wills. Every Christian should make a Christian will. This should provide for the needs of his family and for the support of Church and charity. Is St Mary's a beneficiary in your will? If she is named as a beneficiary in all of our wills, her future will be placed on so lasting a basis that her missionary work for the Catholic Cause may be endowed in perpetuity.

May the year of 1947 be filled with blessing for each and every one of you!

Affectionately yours,

THE FEAST OF THE EPIPHANY

It not infrequently happens that the Feast of the Epiphany is confused with the Feast of Christmas, or The Nativity. Such confusion is not unnatural for The Epiphany continues the mystery of Christmas. After all, the Greek work 'epiphany' is accurately translated 'manifestation' and connotes in the Church's teaching the appearance of God to His creatures. The Divine Appearance was first made at the birth of Jesus Christ, which birth was originally kept by Christians on January the sixth. The latter part of the Fourth Century, 376 A.D. to be exact, the commemoration of The Nativity of our blessed Lord was transferred to December the twenty-fifth, on which day it is still observed.

However, the name 'Epiphany' continued to be associated with January the sixth. In many countries the festival of The Epiphany was called the King's Feast, alluding to the Magi, those eastern kings who journeyed by the guidance of the Star to Bethlehem to worship the Infant King, Jesus. Everywhere throughout the Christian world the Feast of the Epiphany has been deemed a "Day Most Holy", that is, one of the cardinal feasts of the Church Catholic, on which the arrangement of the whole Christian year is based. Do we not have Sundays after Epiphany just as we have Sundays after Easter and Sundays after Trinity?

The Epiphany is often referred to as a Second Christmas since the joy of humankind over the Birth of the Saviour is renewed on this Feast on which the Incarnate God is shown in a new light. As on Christmas Day the faithful are reminded of the Babe of Bethlehem as He appeared on earth in humble and silent love, so on Epiphany, the Second Christmas Day, the faithful are reminded of the showing forth of the Divinity of this holy Babe. On Christmas Day a few shepherds adored the Word-Made-Flesh and on the Epiphany the whole world in the person of the Magi was called to adore Emmanuel, God-With-Us.

Now three mysteries of the Christian religion were anciently celebrated on Epiphany, January the sixth — the mystery of the Magi who adored the Infant as their Divine King, the mystery of the Baptism of Christ at which He was proclaimed by the Eternal Father as the Son of God, and the mystery of the Changing of Water into Wine at the Cana marriage feast whereby Christ proclaimed His Divine power. It was commonly believed that the actual date of all three mysteries — the Visit of the Magi, the Baptism and the Miracle at Cana — was January the sixth. In the Kalendar of the Episcopal Church the second of these mysteries is commemorated on the Second Sunday after the Epiphany and the third of these mysteries is commemorated on the Third Sunday after the Epiphany. In our Kalendar the First Sunday after the Epiphany commemorates the boyhood of Jesus Christ, during which, at the age of twelve, the Divine Son of Mary began to chase away the shadows of the Law as expounded by the Doctors of Israel in the Temple at Jerusalem. This Sunday is also frequently kept as the Feast of the Holy Family — Jesus, Mary and Joseph.

On any Catholic observance of the Feast of the Epiphany itself, January the sixth, the emphasis is always placed upon the Visit of the Magi to Bethlehem. The shepherds have been the first worshippers of the Incarnate Son of God and the Church in her Kalendar then immediately joins to their company the prince of martyrs, St Stephen; the beloved disciple, St John; the precious company of the Holy Innocents; the glorious St Thomas of Canterbury and St Sylvester, the patriarch of peace. Then on January the sixth Holy Church opens her ranks to the Kings of the East, the Magi, who bear with them to Bethlehem gifts and prayers and adoring love of the whole human race.

From time immemorial on January the sixth Pagan kings have offered sacrilegious homage to the King of kings by joining with the faithful at their worship. This they have done for reasons politic. But for the most part earthly rulers have offered the homage of genuine faith and devotion on the Feast of the Epiphany, for the King of kings has indeed become the Ruler of their hearts. These earthly rulers have customarily brought gifts of gold and frankincense and myrrh to signify their desire to keep alive the generous adoration of the ancient Magi.

Many happy customs have sprung up in connection with the Epiphany observance. One of the most familiar of these is that... of each Christian family naming as King for the day that member of the family who took from a large cake the piece with the secret mark. Two portions of this same cake were then reserved for the poor, that honor might thus be paid to the Infant King who was humble and poor. The Cake ceremony always was the means of drawing the family relations together in a feeling of kindness and love and generosity.

How shall we moderns keep Epiphany? On the Feast itself we shall strive to imitate the faith and adoration of the Magi. Then later in the Epiphany season we shall adore at His baptism the Divine Lamb over whom the heavens were opened and the voice of the heavenly Father was heard “Thou art my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased”. Still later we shall take our place in spirit at the marriage feast at Cana where the King showed His divine power by ministering to the needs of His happy friends.

May we on January the sixth be led by the Star of our faith to the altar, there to offer our heart's love as our best gift! A justly popular hymn puts it

"Vainly we offer each ample oblation
Vainly with gifts would his favour secure;
Richer by far is the heart’s adoration,
Dearer to God are the prayers of the poor!"

May our manner of life be resplendently renewed that we may finish our earthly exile as we look forward to that happy day when light eternal will absorb for us the deep shadows of earthly pomp and tinsel!

THE OUTWARD GLORY OF ST MARY’S

LET us step inside the Lady Chapel at the East end of the church on the Epistle side. As you might well suppose the theme of the whole interior centers on the life of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of our Lord. The first thing we notice is the window, of fifteenth century style, executed in England. The left hand light (from bottom to top) depicts the Annunciation, then we see St Joseph; the central light contains two adoring angels, the Nativity of our Lord, and at the very top, the Virgin and Child; the right hand light shows the Presentation of Christ in the Temple, and one can readily distinguish the two doves in a cage and a scroll with the words Nunc Dimittis written on it, words uttered by Simeon as he looked on and saw Messiah, the “Consolation of Israel”. Above this scene stands St John holding a book, obviously his own Gospel, for the opening words stand out clearly “In Principium erat Verbum”, or “In the beginning was the Word”. On either side of the altar there are two lovely marble statues on pedestals; on the Gospel side, St Mary and the Boy Jesus, and on the Epistle side, St Elizabeth and her son St John Baptist.

The walls of the Lady Chapel, above the fine carved wood panelling, contain two large murals. On the Gospel side is pictured the Magnificat — Our Lady surrounded by Saints, children and elders, inspired by the Holy Ghost (the Dove is seen above her head) to utter as she greeted St Elizabeth, those glorious words “My soul doth magnify the Lord . . .”. On the opposite wall we see the representation of the Epiphany, with Our Lady, St Anne, and the three Kings presenting gifts; and gathered about the Altar Throne, various people to whom our Lord was manifested (Epiphany means manifestation) throughout the ages.

The roof deserves special mention because it is so easily overlooked. While there is not very much symbolism contained in the magnificent wood carving, it remains one of the most beautiful vaults one could wish for. There are many angels holding coats of arms on which are emblazoned emblems of Our Lady. “Ave”, the Star, the heart pierced by the sword (“a sword shall pierce thine own heart also”), the Fleur de Lys, the Sacred Monogram of Our Lady (the letter M) will suffice to suggest their appropriateness in a Chapel of Our Lady. But do not miss the very fine plaque of the Virgin, Our Lady of the Angels, high up in the roof facing the Altar. You will have to strain your eyes from a point very close to the Altar rail and peer straight up.
On either side of the entrance to the chapel is another representation of the Annunciation—two figures on either side of the door jamb, the Archangel Gabriel and St Mary. The statue of the Virgin and Child, just inside the door, completes the symbolic picture.

Adjoining, in the rear, is the Lady Chapel Annex. Appropriately enough, although out of scale, we leave the chapel, which tells of the Incarnation of our Lord, by passing beneath the Rood which came from the old Church of St Mary the Virgin on Forty-Fifth Street. Here we see Our Lady sorrowing at the Crucifixion of our Lord. Through this doleful passage we reach the annex, and in it again is represented the joy and glory of Our Lady. The large mural on the south (geographically east) wall portrays the Burial of the Virgin, with the twelve Apostles in attendance, and high above this the Assumption of Our Lady, with surrounding angels. The lovely stained glass window in the west end completes the story of Our Lady. The central figures are those of Christ and the Blessed Virgin, with our Lord placing a crown on her head. She sits at His right hand, the place of honour in the heavens, a place she rightly deserves. In attendance around the heavenly throne are Saints and adoring Angels and high overhead is the deep blue vault of Heaven. The whole chapel brings to mind those thrilling words, "Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with thee, blessed art thou among women."

PARISH NOTES

The members of St Mary's and their friends are invited most cordially to attend the 1947 St Bede Lectures. These lectures are to be held at the Guild Hall of St Thomas' Church, 1 West Fifty-third Street. This year's series of lectures is divided into three courses of three lectures each and the admission for each individual lecture is fifty cents. The subject of the entire series is "The Episcopal Church Confronts the World". The first course of the series, "The World the Church Faces", is given on Monday evenings, January sixth, thirteenth and twentieth by Father Bayne, Chaplain of Columbia University. The second course, "The Church the World Faces", is given on Monday evenings, January twenty-seventh, February third and tenth by Father Pike, Tutor of the General Theological Seminary. The third course, "The Man in the Church", is given on Monday evenings, February seventeenth, twenty-fourth and March third by Mr Richardson Wright, the Editor-in-Chief of House and Garden. Each lecture will begin at eighty-three.

These St Bede Lectures afford a splendid opportunity for Christians to face up to the meaning of the corporate Christian life, with its many privileges and glad responsibilities.

THE Woman's Auxiliary is holding its monthly meeting in St Joseph's Hall at ten-forty-five on Friday, January the tenth, at which a message from the Mission of St Francis of Assisi, Upi, The Philippines, will be read. The meeting as usual will be preceded by a Corporate Communion for the members of the Auxiliary at the nine-thirty Mass in the Lady Chapel. It will be a wonderful help if every woman of the congregation of St Mary’s who possibly can would attend these monthly meetings to learn more about and take a more prayerful and active interest in the great missionary work of Holy Church, that work begun by our blessed Lord and entrusted by Him confidently to His Church.

COPIES of the American Edition of the Anglican Missal (people's edition) are still available at five dollars each at the Church Office. Every practising Anglican Catholic should have one of these missals with the full Christian Kalender that the Mass Propers may be followed from day to day. True, it takes not a little time and patience to feel at home in using the missal but it is time and patience richly rewarded. After all, the Anglican Missal is the Book of Common Prayer greatly enriched by the devotional treasures of the continued liturgical life of the Church of the Ages.

RESPONDING to an almost peremptory plea from the Guild of Help, Father Taber has again agreed to give a Book Review, the proceeds from which will go to the support of the several charities, mainly the Youth Consultation Service of the Diocese of New York, sponsored by this parochial guild. By the gracious invitation of Mrs Eugene W. Mason the Review will be held at her home, 111 East Sixty-ninth Street, at four on the afternoon of Thursday, January the twenty-third. A delightful tea always closes the afternoon at this annual benefit. Tickets for the Review are two dollars and forty cents each (including the Federal tax of forty cents) and they may be secured from Mrs Mason or through the Church Office. In the name of Christian charity, the generous patronage of this benefit will be deeply appreciated.

THE winter meeting of St Ursula’s Guild is being held on Saturday afternoon, January the twenty-fifth, in the Upper Guild Hall, at four. At this meeting the theological aspects of the Doctrine of the Blessed Trinity will be presented and reverently discussed. The meeting will be brought to a close at five-fifteen, with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in the Lady Chapel. Women who are Catholic and who are interested in the various phases of educational work are cordially invited to attend this meeting of St Ursula’s Guild.

HAVE you sent in your annual contribution for the support of AVE? The support is increasing and we shall gratefully acknowledge each contribution. In a sense, AVE is a missionary bulletin for it finds its way into the home of many an isolated Catholic, thereby giving a lift, and into the home of many an uninstructed Christian, thereby giving a reason for the hope that lurks within.
