Dear Parishioners of St Mary's,—

It is inevitable that changes should occur in a clergy staff such as ours and we must accept these necessary changes gladly, believing them to be for the honor and glory of Almighty God.

Father Lavey is to be felicitated on his call to become Rector of Trinity Church, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, on October twenty-fifth. He has worked hard and faithfully in our midst and his priestly ministrations have been greatly appreciated. He goes forth from St Mary's with the prayers and good wishes of his many friends who will be happy to learn from time to time of his progress in his new charge.

During the last week of October the Reverend Robert H. Schuman took up priestly work among us. He comes to us from South River, New Jersey, where for the past seven years he has been Rector of Holy Trinity Church. He is a native of Massachusetts, a graduate of Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, and he was trained to be a priest at Nashotah House, Nashotah, Wisconsin, where upon graduation he was honored with the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. The faithful of St Mary's will extend a hearty welcome to Father Schuman and by their prayers assist him in his work for our great High Priest, Jesus Christ.

It has been our policy in the past to celebrate the greater Holy Days with a High Mass in addition to several Low Masses. We hope to develop this policy as much as possible in the future. On the Holy Days on which normally we may expect to receive Holy Communion this High Mass will be celebrated at seven in the morning so that our working people may receive the Blessed Sacrament in a setting of great glory before going to work. On the other important Holy Days the High Mass will be at noon, with a brief address in which the teaching of the Church proper to the particular Holy Day may be set forth. Therefore, whenever you hear a weekday High Mass announced, look forward to being present that you may celebrate each greater Holy Day in the Church's most resplendent manner.

Affectionately yours

Please note that the alphabetical designations for these Requiems refer to the last names of the individuals sending in the lists for remembrance, not to the names of the faithful departed. Thus you may know when your names will be read.

If the hour designated proves to be an impossible one for you to attend, kindly specify at which Mass on the schedule you prefer to have your names read.

JOYFUL SPIRITUAL PROGRESS

At Mass

The happiest privilege of the Catholic Christian is that of attending the celebration of the Holy Mass. The priest at his preparation before the altar strikes the keynote as he takes on his lips the words of the Psalmist "I will go unto the altar of God, even unto the God of my joy and gladness." Yes, attendance at Mass is no mere fulfillment of duty to be grimly performed but rather it is the happiest experience of the practising Christian.

You see, we are not orphans in this earthly land of exile and misery because Jesus, every time the Mass is celebrated, comes to be our companion. He comes so that we may have the privilege of uniting ourselves to Him in all of His purity in the spotless Host of the Mass. Through this wondrous union we may dare to offer ourselves to our heavenly Father whose house we as prodigals have deserted by taking our God-given inheritance and going forth to use it independently for our own selfish purpose. To be sure, our heavenly Father has received us safe and sound home again when we have come to ourselves and confessed our sins with contrite hearts. For such overwhelming compassion and forgiveness we are grateful beyond words to express. We would offer our heavenly Father a worthy gift as a token of our appreciation and as an act of homage for so great kindness and lo! we are privileged to offer the homage of the King of Glory, the Divine Son Jesus Christ, His divine glory and His human glory, beneath the sacramental veil as He offers Himself at the altar at Mass. Though a King He has taken the poor garments of bread and wine and come down to the level of His unworthy subjects in order that He may console us by giving us real proof of His love for us. Indeed, He has come down to our level to encourage us to rededicate ourselves, our souls and our bodies to the Father from whom we have strayed as wayward sons and daughters. Though we honestly and humbly hesitate to reunite ourselves to our heavenly Father whom we have so grossly offended through the exaltation of our self-love, yet, united to Jesus in the Mass, we gain the courage to offer ourselves even with our stains and imperfections simply because we are permitted to make this offering in union with Him our Elder Brother, the Head of the race of the Redeemed, the Lamb of Calvary, our only Mediator and Advocate and Saviour, Jesus Christ.
After all, our joy breaks all bounds as we attend Mass because the Holy Mass is the reality of which the crucifix is but the symbol. Of all the symbols of our holy religion we treasure most the crucifix and yet the crucifix comes to life, so to speak, in the Sacrifice of the Mass, for there on the altar we offer to the Father not a dead Christ, but rather the “Lamb as it had been slain” yet now clothed with glory, for He is risen and ascended and returned to earth beneath the sacramental veil which He Himself had chosen in the Upper Room the night before His crucifixion and the night in which He was betrayed. The next time you accept the privilege of attending Mass, think of the altar as the mystical Calvary and hear Jesus plead “Father, forgive them! I offer Thee my Blood and my Wounds for them.” Yes, think thus and look up and rejoice with joy unspeakable as Jesus re-presents Himself to the Father as “a full, perfect and sufficient sacrifice, oblation and satisfaction for the sins of the whole world” and, as you ponder, adore.

Yes, adore Lord Jesus who has placed in man’s hands by the institution of the Mass all that He accomplished on the Cross, namely, worship, praise, honor, thanksgiving, love, obedience and service,—all that was owing to God the Father but held back from Him because of the sins of His children on the earth. What an accumulated indebtedness man had incurred over the centuries by his sinning and yet this debt which the whole body of created men owed to God has been paid in full on the Cross, which payment is mediated to us, poor sinners of every age, through every Mass as the Divine Victim is again presented to the Father. No wonder the Mass is often spoken of as daily peace-offering because thereby our peace with a justly offended heavenly Father is restored. No wonder too that the Mass has been called “a daily grace-packed privilege.”

But enough. Every Mass is a new spiritual experience for each faithful worshipper since the soul of the individual worshipper ascends to God at each Mass attended, for it cannot remain earth-bound since it is heavenward-borne by reason of its union with the King of Heaven who is the Priest and the Victim on the altar. Thus the adoring worshipper is lifted up at every Mass as he ascends joyfully the ladder of spiritual progress.

WHAT ABOUT GOD? (2)

When a Catholic is asked by an earnest inquirer what the Christian God is like, he ought to reply in as simple and straightforward a fashion as possible. The man who starts out, “Well, of course, we can’t really know much about God; He is so far above and beyond us,” is lost before he begins. Not only is he lost, he’s a heretic. He’s denying our Lord who not only told us a great deal about God (that is, about Himself as well as about the Father and the Holy Ghost), but also said, “He that hath seen me, hath seen the Father.”

So let us begin with a definite statement and then we can tear it apart and discover all its implications: _God is one infinite, self-sufficient, personal Being who has revealed Himself to us because He created us and loves us._ It wouldn’t hurt to learn this sentence because I believe there can be drawn from it all the attributes or qualities of God that our Lord has shown us. And every word of it is important. Many other religions and philosophies that may seem on the surface to be similar to Christianity, lack one or more of these ideas. So we must be careful when some one offers us a description of God that is said to be practically the same, or just as good, as Christianity, to test it carefully and see if it is complete. It may lack just one of the above ideas, but that lack will make it un-Christian and therefore anti-Christian. For with Christ it is all or nothing. His teaching or revelation is a unified whole, and to drop out just one element is to destroy the whole.

Now, in our process of tearing this statement apart to see what each bit of it means, we may as well start with the word that appears to be the most difficult— _infinite._ In my search for everyday words, so as to avoid high-flown theological terms in our definition, that was the one that stopped me. It is, indeed, probably the most meaningful of all the words in our statement for it really implies all the others. If we had a full grasp of all that this great word means and implies to the Christian scholar, we could simply say, "God is infinite," and stop there. To illustrate this — in a classical Latin dictionary it takes two and a half short lines to define infinitus. In a Christian theological Latin dictionary, it takes the best part of five large pages to define the same word. So let us begin.

The Latin word, finis means simply a boundary, limit or border; and its verb means to enclose within limits. So, when you tack a negative onto its participle you have the word, infinitus meaning unbounded or limitless. Now when you speak of boundaries or limits, you are talking about spaces such as a farm or a country or an ocean. But when you remove all boundaries, you get beyond any one country or ocean, even beyond the world and the universe, finally beyond space itself for our scientists have finally discovered what Christians knew all along, that space itself has limits. So when you think of God in terms of space, you find that you can't think of Him in terms of space at all, for He is unbounded.

And by analogy the term, infinite, is applied not only to God's spaciousness (or lack of it), but to all His qualities. It applies to His knowledge, for example; to His life, His will or love, His providence; for a Being who is really infinite, is infinite in all respects, not in just one. It is sometimes said in relation to the quality of infinity, that it means that God's limitations are wholly within Himself. And this is true although it may sound paradoxical. In the first place it is obvious that there are no external limitations on Him since there is nothing outside of Him. And in the second, He may limit His actions without in any way limiting His ability to act. Think of a champion weight-lifter threading a needle. He doesn't use all his enormous strength to do that. And so it is not too hard to see, for example, how God by His infinite will may choose to limit the exercise of His infinite power because of His infinite love. The boundlessness of the power is still there. It is being exercised by the wisdom of a personal love. This may give you a first glimpse as to how it was possible for an infinite God to become incarnate in a finite Man.

PARISH NOTES

MONDAY, November the first, is the blessed Feast of All Saints. On this happy day we are called upon to pay honor to all of the saints in the Church Triumphant in heaven. Some of these saints we shall have commemorated during the Christian year, but there are many saints that are in heaven who have escaped the notice of men and have been known only to God. The Church Catholic delights to commemorate all on November the first and to thank God for the grace and virtue declared in their several earthly pilgrimages. High Mass with Communions will be celebrated at seven, followed by Low Masses at 8, 9:30 and 12:10. All Saints is a Festival on which all of the faithful would normally attend Mass and if possible receive the Blessed Sacrament. Let us not fail in our Catholic privilege.

TUESDAY, November the second, is All Souls' Day. The Church in her rugged honesty recognizes that the souls of her beloved dead are in Purgatory, there to enjoy rest from the struggles of temptation and to be enlightened and purified in preparation for the final joys of heaven. Therefore, on this holy day we pray for the progress of the souls of our dear ones who have gone through the gates of death. Low Masses of Requiem will be celebrated in the Chapel of Our Lady of Mercy at 7, 8, and 9:30. At noon a High Mass of Requiem will be offered, with a brief address by Father Taber, and followed by Absolution of the Dead. It is a spiritual act of mercy to pray for the dead. Let each of us be merciful on All Souls' Day.

THE Annual Advent Retreat for Men and Women is to be conducted this year on Saturday, December the eleventh, by the Bishop of Long Island, the Right Reverend James P. deWolfe. Set aside this date for your spiritual health.

ON Thanksgiving Day, November the twenty-fifth, we shall be happy to gather together as a parish family at the High Mass at eleven to show forth our humble gratitude to Almighty God for our undeserved and numberless graces and blessings. Father Taber will give a brief sermon at this High Mass of Thanksgiving.

THE Advent United Thank Offering will be presented at the Cathedral of St John the Divine at the ten o'clock Mass on...
Tuesday, December the seventh. The offerings of the women of St Mary's should be sent to the Parish Custodian, Mrs. Charles Edgar, 535 East 14th Street, New York City 9, or given to her on Sunday, December the fifth, after High Mass. All the women of the parish are invited to attend the Mass at the Cathedral, following which there will be a box luncheon in the Undercroft. A meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the afternoon.

The members of the congregation and their friends are cordially invited to attend a series of Organ Recitals to be given in the church on the last four Monday evenings in November. Ernest White is at the organ on November fifteenth and twenty-ninth and Edward Linzel on November eighth and twenty-second.

The Day Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary attends its annual Requiem for departed members in the Chapel of Our Lady of Mercy at nine-thirty on Friday, November the nineteenth. That afternoon in St Joseph's Hall a business meeting will be held at three-thirty, followed by a Mission Tea from four until six during which a film "A Vision of Victory" will be shown. This film will be of very special interest to St Mary's parishioners for it depicts the work of St Andrew's Theological Seminary in Manila where native priests are trained under the leadership of our Parish Missionary, Father Mandell. The summer work of the Auxiliary will be on display. All women of the congregation are urged to be present.

The Guild of Help holds its Autumn meeting on Thursday afternoon, December the second, at three at the apartment of Mrs. William C. Dickey, 200 East 66th Street. The Chaplain, Father Taber, will open the meeting and a talk will be given by Mrs. Margaret Stewart Hoag, Executive Director of the Youth Consultation Service. The meeting will happily be brought to a close with afternoon tea. The women of St Mary's are most cordially invited to be present to learn more of this important work for young people of the Diocese.
